

Tension Increases in Iran--Reds Start Big Demonstration

TEHRAN, Iran, May 29—(AP)—A demonstration by 50,000 persons in Tehran today opened a Communist-front barrage against the British and Americans keyed to the explosive oil issue. Tanks and troop-trucks patrolled the tense capital.

It was the biggest Communist-front demonstration thus far in Tehran, and it was the signal for other demonstrations planned at key points throughout Iran, called by the Communist Tudeh party as a protest against "British-American imperialism."

The lower House of Parliament, meeting while the demonstrators gathered, voted to extend Iran's martial law to seven points in Khuzistan province, where the oil industry is centered. However, army units ordered into the area at the time of the April riots against the British never have been withdrawn. The prior martial law declaration, which theoretically expired Sunday, still was being enforced there.

The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, chief target of the demonstrators, announced it was authorizing wives and children of its British Pakistani and India employees to quit Abadan, the oil port, "on leave" at company expense. Holdings of the company, controlled by the British government, are marked for nationalization by the Iranian government.

(In London, Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison implored the Iranians to consider the dangerous potentialities of the situation and negotiate in an atmosphere of good will. He expressed British willingness, under certain unspecified conditions, to accept some form of nationalization of the British oil holdings.)

The Tudeh party, bent on its biggest demonstration since it was outlawed and forced underground in 1949, pegged today's turnouts to the 18th anniversary of the signing by Britain and Iran of the 60-year oil concession allowing the British to be the sole exploiters of Iran's rich oil deposits. Parliament, in a wave of nationalist fervor, voted a month ago to end the concession.

The demonstrations were advertised as planned to last three weeks.

REDS FIGHT FOR LIVES

U. S. Air Force Is Called Vital

Views on War Given By Gen. Vandenberg

WASHINGTON, May 29—(AP)—Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg declared today the United States must maintain an air force able to destroy Russia's air power "and destroy it promptly."

Testifying at the Senate's MacArthur hearings, Vandenberg described the U. S. air force as the "big stick," or at least the "fairly large club" guarding the world against a new global war. But he said the present force may become only a "willow wand" as Russia increases her air power and atomic weapons stockpile.

Vandenberg, the air force chief of staff, plugged for a continued build up of air strength in the midst of questioning from members of a Senate inquiry committee about the removal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur from his commands.

On the MacArthur issue, he had a sharp exchange with Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) who declared Vandenberg had been just as critical of Korean police as MacArthur ever was. Hickenlooper suggested that raised a question as to whether Vandenberg should resign or be removed as chief of the air force. Vandenberg denied he had disagreed with any United Nations policy.

At another point, Vandenberg gave his definition of what would be "complete victory" in Korea. In response to questions from Senator Hunt (D-Wyo.), he said he would regard it as complete victory if there was unification of Korea under a democratic government and "some sort of" a Korean-Chinese treaty.

In his discussion of the U. S. air force role in the present world situation, Vandenberg harked back to President Theodore Roosevelt's advice regarding the United States: "Walk softly, but carry a big stick." Then Vandenberg said:

"Today, the United States has the opportunity of carrying a big stick, and can walk softly; but people will realize that big stick is the offensive strength of the United States air force."

Vandenberg went into a discussion of Russian air strength with the senators but much of what he said was heavily censored. However, one statement left in was this: "They (the Russians) are building a long range air force."

The hearings are being conducted behind closed doors but a stenographic report of what is said is given to newsmen after going through censors.

Field Day Program Here Takes Form

With the district plowing matches to provide the main attraction, the program for the first annual Soil Conservation Field Day was drawn up by the committees in charge Monday night.

The program will start at 9 A. M. August 1 and run through 4 P. M. on that date. The Field Day will be held on the Alpha Farm northeast of Washington C. H.

Listed below is the program: 9 A. M. to 11:15 A. M., wagon tours; 9:30 A. M. to 11:30 A. M., contour plowing contest; 12 noon to 1 P. M., speaking program; 1 to 3 P. M. wagon tour; 1:30 to 3:30 P. M., level land contest, and 4

P. M. announce winners and make presentation of awards for plowing contest.

A large representation from the various committees who are planning the Field Day attended a monthly meeting in the Farm Bureau auditorium Monday night.

Plans call for Louis Broomfield, nationally known author, lecturer and conservationist, to speak at the occasion. The committees are inviting Gov. Frank Lausche, too.

Plenty of Food Promised
Promise of plenty of food and entertainment came from committees Monday night. There have been a few requests from organizations for setting up food concessions at the Field Day. A food stand for the Fayette County Professional Nurses Association was okayed.

There was some doubt expressed Monday night as to whether farm equipment dealers would be able to set up farm machinery displays in connection with the Field Day. Some of the dealers say the Field Day is too close to the County Fair and that it would be impossible for them to move the equipment in time to have it set up at the Alpha Farm.

Meantime, plans are going ahead for the educational exhibits, which will tell why soil conservation pays off for the farmer. There will be a hog demonstration which Dan Buskirk, district soil conservationist, says will be unique for such a Field Day.

Corn plots have been planted in some 30 varieties. The Wildlife Division has leased 10 acres of land on the Alpha Farm and 107 hens and 15 cock pheasants have been turned loose in the area. Bob Jackson, farm manager, said the pheasants will find themselves in natural surroundings and should multiply quickly.

Some discussion took place Monday night as to ways and means of financing the Field Day. It was brought out that the event will cost approximately $1,000 to stage.

Finance Plans Laid
The finance committee suggested that the money be raised by three means: (1) A percentage cut from the concession stands (2) Donations for parking cars (3) Proceeds from the sale of advertisements in a giant program for the day. This would provide the main source of funds, it was pointed out.

Plans have been made for the Field Day to gain widest possible publicity throughout the area from which entries will come in the district plowing contest. Announcements have already been made over radio stations in the area and articles have appeared in several newspapers.

The publicity committee discussed the possibility of holding a press banquet sometime in the near future, inviting newspapermen and radio announcers from Dayton, Springfield, Columbus and Cincinnati to attend.

Aerial photographs of the Alpha Farm were shown to the group. They were taken recently by the Ohio Aviation Board. Some will be used in the educational exhibits; others for publicity.

Trap Tightened By Allied Drive

Offense Carries Across Parallel 38

By OLEN CLEMENTS
TOKYO, Wednesday, May 30—(AP)—South Korean troops stabbed forward a dozen miles Tuesday against little or no opposition to seize the east coast port of Kansong, 26 miles inside North Korea.

Other United Nations forces on the central front gained control of an important ridge overlooking the escape route for thousands of Korean and Chinese Reds at the eastern end of the Hwachon reservoir.

The allied push was designed to slam the door on Red troops still south of the reservoir, said a pooled dispatch.

The allies were within four miles southeast of Yanggu on the last ridgeline leading to that strategic town.

The Reds fought bitterly to delay the allied troops on the mountainous central front but gains of as much as 4,500 yards (almost three miles) were scored by powerful allied tank and artillery-supported task forces.

Americans and South Koreans surrounded and hacked to pieces two full Chinese divisions in this battle. A briefing officer said only a few scattered Red units survived.

Escape Possible
But the costly Chinese stand may have allowed the bulk of retreating Red forces to slip back across the 38th Parallel and escape the pursuing UN forces.

The allied counterattack had pushed the Reds back 30 to 40 miles. It virtually wiped out gains the Communists made in two costly spring offensives. The Reds, by Eighth Army estimates, paid nearly 150,000 casualties for those temporary gains.

The UN comeback drive had carried the allies north across 38 at almost every major road crossing. The deepest penetration was on the east coast. There South Koreans were dug in Tuesday morning at Sokcho, 14 miles north of the parallel, under the supporting guns of U. S. warships standing offshore.

The Navy announced that farther north blockading warships have killed or wounded more than 9,200 Reds in their siege of Wonsan, now in its fourth month.

Field reports said UN tank-led patrols ran into trouble probing out in three directions from Inje, eastern anchor of this sector four miles north of 38.

Man Survives Stick in Neck

ZANESVILLE, May 29—(AP)—A strip of wood passed through a man's neck like a spear yesterday but missed the spinal cord and jugular vein.

Doctors say Robert Hunter, 44, of nearby Gaysport, is alive today because men who were helping him saw wood on his farm did not try to remove it before taking him to a hospital.

The 1½-inch square strip was 10 feet long. The saw had flipped it into the air. Workmen sawed off eight feet and called an ambulance.

Hunter is in fair condition at Bethesda Hospital.

If Rain Balks Race It Goes Thursday

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29—(AP)—If rain forces a postponement of Wednesday's 500-mile automobile race, the classic will probably be run off on Thursday, observers said.

However, Tommy Milton, the chief steward, refused to speculate on future plans. There has been only one postponement among the 34 previous races—in 1915—but two were cut short by rain, including last year.

Row Flares over Adjournment

Legislature Bogs Down Under Stack of Bills

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, May 29—(AP)—A Senate official disclosed today the Republican House leadership wants the Ohio Legislature to recess until September rather than adjourn tonight.

Senate Clerk Thomas E. Bateman said the Senate's drive for adjournment tonight is blocked by the House insistence on a three-month recess.

The Legislature can adjourn only on mutual agreement of the two Houses.

The House leadership's desire to recess rather than adjourn puts the Republican-dominated Legislature in a ticklish spot.

Governor Could Act

Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche, if he wishes to use his power, can "pro roque" the Legislature. That is, if the two Houses of the general assembly are unable to agree on an adjournment date, the governor can send the Legislature home on a date he selects.

That right hasn't been exercised since Republican Gov. Harry L. Davis, sent the Legislature home in 1921 when the assembly couldn't agree on an adjournment date.

The present legislature originally planned to finish work last Friday or Saturday night. That became impossible because of the last-minute crush. Then the date was moved up to tonight.

While much work remains, Legislative observers and Senate leaders agreed adjournment of working sessions tonight was physically possible.

Today came the bombshell.

While no senator would be quoted ed, at least one declared the House desire to recess to September was at behest of certain lobbyists. He did not explain further.

25 Bills Approved

The Senate and House approved 25 bills yesterday and defeated three. Perhaps twice as many measures will be passed upon by the Houses before the windup.

In addition, conference committees of the two Houses will be struggling for compromise on several important measures including the budget bill for the next two years, the school subsidy increase, workmen's compensation revisions, poor relief and elections law revisions.

The Senate still has before it five major House-approved bills: congressional redistricting; padding of gambling establishments; making ownership, display or transportation of slot machines and other gambling devices a felony; increase in truck taxes, and additions and betterments.

The House must act today, if ever, on the unemployment compensation revision measure, the bill to combat water pollution all over the state and the measure to reorganize the state civil service commission. All have reached Senate approval.

In addition, there may come

LIMA, May 29—(AP)—A be-reaved swan bore the name of "Old Faithful" today.

He's sitting on a nest of eggs left by his spouse several weeks ago when she died.

He gets off his nest at a lake just 15 minutes a day to bathe and swim around a bit, says Ferd McClintock, his owner. Then he returns to the nest.

McClintock was uncertain when to expect the eggs to hatch. Some authorities told him that five weeks is required, others say it is seven weeks. Now he's trying to learn which period is correct, for if only five weeks are required, the eggs may hatch next week.

But "Old Faithful" doesn't seem bothered about how long it will take; nor has he shown any impatience, says McClintock.

Police Take Hand In Gasoline War

AKRON, May 29—(AP)—Akron's gasoline dealers were ordered today to remove all the big signs advertising their current price war.

With regular gasoline now selling for as little as 18 cents a gallon compared with 25.3 in the rest of the state, the police put out the removal order at the request of the Summit County Gasoline Dealers, Inc.

The organization found an Akron ordinance prohibiting the signs.

Sentenced To Death

Italy Election Jolt to Reds

ROME, May 29—(AP)—An anti-Communist coalition has broken the extreme left wing hold on Italy's "Red North."

Incomplete returns today indicated Premier Alcide De Gasperi's Atlantic Pact front had given the Reds their worst beating in five years in provincial elections.

The Communists were kicked out of five provincial capital administrations they had held since 1945. De Gasperi's forces took a heavy majority of council seats in elections which ended yesterday for a third of the nation. The rest of the nation votes later.

Witnesses Clam Up At Crime Inquiry

WASHINGTON, May 29—(AP)—Chairman O'Connor (D-Md) of the Senate crime investigating committee says he will ask that the Senate cite for contempt three Chicagoans who appeared before the group yesterday.

The three, Murray L. (The Camel) Humphreys, Rocco Fischetti and George S. May, appeared before the committee at a closed session. May is head of the Tam O'Shanter Golf Club and The George S. May Engineering Co. Humphreys and Fischetti have been named by the committee as top figures in the Capone mob.

O'Connor said all three refused to answer questions on grounds that replies might tend to incriminate them.

VA Insurance Director Quits In Huff over Public Apathy

WASHINGTON, May 29—(AP)—Harold W. Breining, long-time head of the world's largest insurance operation, quit today with a blast at what he said has been public apathy over "a damn big job."

Breining, director of the multi-billion dollar veterans' insurance program, said he is retiring as a Veterans Administration's $11,200-a-year assistant administrator because he is tired.

Breining, 55, has been directing government life insurance operations for 31 years, all but three of the 34 years the government has been providing life insurance benefits for servicemen and veterans.

He organized the National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) program at the end of World War II, as well as the veterans' loan program.

Breining said VA has done a "damn big job which nobody appreciates—there is no proper appreciation of its volume and what it means."

Asked if the lack of appreciation was on the part of the public, the Congress, the veterans or

Just as it was getting about time to plant watermelons here, the first big, luscious Florida melons have started rolling into the local market.

Likewise California cantaloupes and Georgia peaches are beginning to reach the market in quantity.

Some of the big melons, part of them weighing as much as 35 pounds each, are priced around nine cents per pound, which for a 34-pound melon, would be $3.06.

One place was selling cantaloupes at 40 cents each for medium sized melons and Georgia peaches were 38 cents a pound.

Regardless of the top prices for the first offering in melons and peaches they are finding many buyers.

It is expected that melons, peaches and other produce from the south and west will pour into the local market in increasing volume.

Way Is Cleared for Color TV But You Won't Get It Very Soon

WASHINGTON, May 29—(AP)—Color television programs by the Columbia Broadcasting system may be started legally in about a month, but it probably will be much longer before they reach most of the public.

The supreme court decided the legal phase of the question yesterday, but big obstacles remained in the way of any substantial switch of TV programs from black and white to color.

Meanwhile, black and white programs will continue for the some 13,000,000 present set owners.

There are two big obstacles to color TV:

1. Most of the major setmakers have expressed dissatisfaction with the CBS system, preferring instead the rival method developed by the Radio Corporation of America (RCA). Whether they will go ahead and turn out sets capable of receiving CBS color programs was uncertain.

2. The defense mobilization program is taking an increasing share of many metals which are essential to production of TV sets and broadcasting stations.

No sets to receive color are on the market now and it probably will be several months before more than a relative few are available.

CBS officials in New York said they would shortly expand their color TV broadcast schedule in New York, and within a few months they expect to be producing a "substantial schedule."

A wire recording of the club's minstrel was played back by Roland Chase as one of the highlights of the meeting. After hearing it, the Lions agreed they had put on a pretty good show.

Softball Opener Here Postponed; No Holiday Game

After hours of watchful and hopeful waiting Tuesday, the opening of the softball season in Washington C. H., was again postponed because of the weather.

Harry Townsend, co-director of the recreation program, said the grounds at Wilson Field were not drying out fast enough to permit the doubleheader scheduled for Tuesday (tonight) night's curtain raiser.

That was the second time the opening had been postponed. Rain and mud halted it Monday, too.

So, barring further interference by the weather, the Recreation League will get off to its belated start Thursday night with a double feature. For that card the VFW and Armbrust are slated for the first game at 7:30 P. M., with the NCR and Pennington Backers to take the field in the second.

by putting all public assistance programs under a new department and leaving the rest of the welfare department won House approval.

The House accepted two changes and passed a Senate bill to let women and minors work longer hours during the war emergency. Other amendments offered by Democrats met defeat.

The measure by Sen. Robert A. Pollock (R-Star) does this:

Allows women over 18 to work 48 hours a week in manufacturing plants, instead of 45 hours.

Permits then a 10-hour day, instead of 9, and allows them to drive taxis, light delivery trucks, trolleys and buses.

Lets girls 16 to 18 work between the hours of 7 A. M. and 9 P. M., instead of between 7 A. M. and 6 P. M.

Allows youths 16 to 18 to work between the hours of 6 A. M. and 11 P. M., instead of between 6 A. M. and 10 P. M.

The bill passed 77-46 and went back to the Senate for approval of House changes.

The House made several changes and passed a Senate bill splitting the state welfare department into two sections. The vote was 100-11. Senate approval of House changes is needed to complete passage and send the bill to Gov. Frank J. Lausche for a possible veto.

A new department of public assistance will handle old age pensions, poor relief and aid programs for the blind, dependent children and others. The welfare department will keep divisions of mental health, corrections, bureau of juvenile research and business administration.

Wage-Price Control

(Continued from Page One) ceiling prices according to pre-Korean levels, with allowance made for increasing costs since the fighting started. The order is effective June 4 but the new ceilings do not become mandatory until July 2.

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) said there would probably be little change in the average retail cost of shoes.

OPS relaxed wholesale and retail price controls in general, to allow adjustments according to changes in manufacturers' prices. Makers have been ordered to set prices, by July 2, at levels before the fighting in Korea, with allowance for increased costs.

OPS also got out an order forbidding processors of farm products from applying the current higher cost for farm products to already-processed foods, such as canned goods on hand.

Controls: The Senate banking committee heard from John J. Rieggle, of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, that wage-price controls should be dropped.

William H. Ruffin, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, renewed, before the House banking committee, his opposition to the entire controls program. He previously told the Senate banking committee controls should be allowed to die.

Retail Dealers Interested in Decision

A number of retail dealers in Washington C. H. and doubtless others throughout this county are showing interest by expressing either concern or elation over the recent decision of the U. S. Supreme Court relative to so-called fair trade laws.

In effect, the Supreme Court by a 6 to 3 decision held that unless a retailer has signed a contract to sell any certain line of goods obtained through interstate trade channels, at prices fixed by the producer or consumer, he is free to resell at whatever price he chooses.

The case grew out of a suit attacking Louisiana's fair trade law and this decision affects similar laws in 44 other states.

The effect on these laws in various states is bound to be rather widespread in causing a revision of some prices, it is asserted.

Most of these state laws which are affected, besides authorizing contracts for the sale or resale of trademarked commodities at prices stipulated by vendors, have a so-called nonsigner's provision. It provides that any retailer who sells any commodity at "less than the stipulated price in any contract," even though he is not a party to the contract, is guilty of unfair practice.

Manufacturers have taken full advantage of this provision to force fixed prices upon all retailers of a state, though they may have had contracts with comparative few retailers. The plan was originally aimed at cut rate drug stores to stop them from selling trademarked compounds as loss leaders.

Since extended to many other products, lower courts have sustained the practice, holding it valid under a 1939 amendment of the Sherman Antitrust Law. Yet the amendment clearly legalizes the prescribing of minimum prices only under contracts which are lawful in interstate commerce.

As to the puzzling construction by the lower courts, imposing price maintenance upon unwilling noncontractual parties, the majority opinion by Justice Jackson of the Supreme Court partly commented:

"When we read what the sponsors wrote and said about the amendment we cannot find that the distributors were to have the right to use not only a contract to fix retail prices, but a club as well."

Many retailers have felt that way about the matter, and consumers have not been convinced that they benefited from the price-fixing pattern first evolved in California. Justice Frankfurter's dissenting opinion conceded that fair trade laws "may be unsound as a matter of economics."

Start At the Top

Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson has urged that states, cities and counties put off all postponable projects for the duration of the emergency if they would have to be financed by borrowings. This suggestion is based on the need to halt inflationary spending and to conserve materials and manpower. To avoid a runaway rise in prices, he observed, it is now necessary to take all practicable steps to reduce non-defense demand.

Mr. Wilson's idea is a splendid one, and it is certainly to be hoped that the governors, mayors and county officials to whom he wrote will follow it. However, it does not go far enough. The great, sprawling federal government must economize to the limit too, if inflation is to be checked and controlled.

The Wishful Thinkers are putting out a rumor the Russians have sold the Chinese Reds down the river. They will be saying next that the Korean story is just another Uncle Tom's Cabin.

Judging by the record volume of mail that is descending on Washington, these times must be good for the stationery business.

You May Be Related to Bathsheba

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK —(AP)— Life has become so complicated today that people are interested in facts as well as fancies.

And many would rather pay some one else to find out what they want to know than wear out liberty steps themselves.

This odd fact led Pierre Marquis to start an organization known as Facts, Inc., which now answers 400,000 to 500,000 questions a year for about $500,000 a year.

Who are his customers? Well, people like Gypsy Rose Lee and Faye Emerson -- and institutions like General Electric and The International Business Machines Company.

Marquis, a slender 29-year-old lawyer who was wounded during the battle of the Belgian Bulge, started his unique enterprise a couple of years ago from scratch -- about $1,500 in scratch. Today the firm has a card index file of 1,000,000 facts, 15,000 reference volumes and 50 fulltime researchers.

"There are a lot of things people want to know," Marquis said happily. And individuals pay $35 a year and business firms up to $2,500 to get his answers.

His biggest current job is to find a pretty gal relative of Bathsheba, the Biblical siren. This commission came from the 20th Century-Fox film studio which poured out $3,000,000 on a technicolor movie called "David and Bathsheba." It is looking for a glamorous twentieth century female, descendant of Bathsheba to help publicize its venture.

Marquis, who has a trained geneologist on his staff, says the task isn't as hard as it sounds.

"There are at least several hundred thousand descendants of Bathsheba alive today," he said. Among them, his research has disclosed, is probably all those who trace their ancestry back to William the Conqueror, the Norman tourist who made the last successful amphibious landing against England.

"This leaves only a 900-year gap for us to bridge," said Marquis. One of his bridges across this little gap led to Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts, he added, but that didn't fill the bill.

"We are looking for a lovely young girl who is descended from Bathsheba," said Marquis. "We may find her anywhere in the world -- in Stockholm, Tokyo, or Wichita."

He has no fear of failure in his quest. It may take more time to answer, but he doesn't think it is basically harder to solve than any number of other odd queries put up to his organization. Such as, "where can I buy a pair of black swans?"

"That took us three days," Marquis said. "We found them in New Jersey."

Or, "how many toes does a tiger have?"

A prominent museum told him tigers usually had five toes on each of its front feet and four on each of its hind feet. Dissatisfied, he checked further and found the nearest live tigers had five toes on each paw.

He notified the museum. They rechecked their stuffed tigers and said, "sorry. You're right. Five is correct."

The American passion for information is so high that in ten years Marquis says he will have 50 branch offices and a $25,000,000.

"There are still a lot of things people want to know," he said, contentedly.

Puzzling Message of March 20

By George Sokolsky

It has been made to appear that on March 20, General MacArthur received from President Truman or somebody a set of instructions: That on March 24, he cribbed those instructions and issued them with threats, against the Chinese Communists.

In a British chronology of world events, I find an item of March 27 that the state department was understood to have handed a "major policy statement" amid at clarifying the UN objectives in the war," to our 13 Allies, but this is three days after General MacArthur's threatening speech to the Chinese Reds.

General Marshall in his testimony before the Russell committee said that there had been negotiations among the nations which were stopped because of the threatening speech of General MacArthur of March 24. In fact, he said that the joint chiefs of staff had sent a message to General MacArthur dated March 20.

This is the message that General Marshall said was sent:

"State is planning a presidential announcement shortly that with the clearing of the bulk of South Korea of aggressors. The United Nations now preparing to discuss conditions of settlement in Korea. The United Nations feeling is that further diplomatic efforts toward the settlement should be made before any advance with major forces north of the 38th Parallel. Time will be required to determine diplomatic reactions and permit new negotiations that may develop. Reasoning is that parallel has no military significance. State has asked joint chiefs what authority you should have (General MacArthur) to permit sufficient freedom of action for next few weeks to provide security for United Nations forces and maintain contact with the enemy. Your recommendations are desired."

But this is not the world-shaking, new policy message from which General MacArthur is supposed to have cribbed his speech of March 24. General MacArthur has not received such a message and the Marshall note can only be interpreted as serving notice on him that something is in the wind.

Members of the Russell committee have interrogated General Bradley about this because the dismissal of General MacArthur is now attributed to his having stymied the state department's peace negotiations by his threats of March 24. General Bradley also has never seen the presidential message of March 20, but he goes back to the Marshall message quoted above, which was obviously only a warning of things to come.

Senator Wiley made the point: "Senator Wiley, -- Have you got evidence that General MacArthur ever got it? A. (Bradley) -- Well, I am sure he did. I can check the message for the acknowledgment of it, but I don't believe he has ever denied he received it."

Actually at that point, General Bradley was speaking of two different messages. The Marshall message, MacArthur did receive; the presidential message, setting forth a new policy to end the war, he did not receive and there is no evidence that such a message was ever sent. Yet, MacArthur is accused of cribbing his March 24 speech from the second, not the first message. A reading of his speech will establish that. The presidential message was supposed to deal with a political basis for a cease-fire. But a cease-fire is a military action that must be carefully planned by the commander in the field. How could the president deal with a cease-fire without discussing its nature with the commander in the field? The Marshall message has nothing to do with that and the other message -- the one that is supposed to have resulted in dismissal -- is still invisible.

General Bradley's statement that General MacArthur has never denied receiving the March 20 message of policy is incorrect. Actually General MacArthur made such a denial and it was published in "Newsweek" magazine on April 16. He said:

"The statement contained in your issue of April 2nd to the effect that prior to the issuance of my statement on March 24 of the military situation in Korea I had been furnished a copy of a policy statement by the president cleared by the governments having military forces in Korea is entirely without basis in fact. I have never seen such a statement and do not know if it even exists. Please publish this in the interest of truth."

It was obvious all through that General Bradley did not know whether the presidential plan had been sent to MacArthur nor that he, Bradley, ever saw it. The Marshall message was obviously a subterfuge to give an impression where no message actually existed.

Terror Has Been Lost By This Disease

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Only a few short years ago scarlet fever was dreaded as a serious disease, responsible for much permanent damage to the heart, kidneys and ears. With the use of penicillin, this disease has lost much of its terror. Not only are many of its former complications prevented, but patients recover rapidly from the disease itself.

A recent study of the results of the penicillin treatment of 365 patients with scarlet fever demonstrates that the germs causing the illness were rapidly banished.

Every Eight Hours

One hundred fifty thousand units of penicillin were given every eight hours, not later than one-half hour before or earlier than 2 1/2 hours after meals.

The penicillin was given to some of the patients by injection into a muscle. Another group was treated by penicillin administered every eight hours by mouth, in varying dosages. It was found that there was no particular advantage in giving the penicillin by injection into a muscle. However, the effects produced were not quite as rapid when the preparation was taken by mouth, although the differences were so small as to be of no great consequence.

The giving of the penicillin by mouth stopped all suppurative complications; that is, such things as running ears or draining lymph glands. However, certain complications did develop. For example, there were three cases of rheumatic fever.

It would appear that the best dose for the treatment of scarlet fever was about 150,000 units of penicillin given every eight hours for ten days.

Amount of Penicillin

An examination of the fluid part of the blood showed that the amount of penicillin present in it was adequate to control the disease when this amount of penicillin was employed.

Scarlet fever causes sore throat, fever, and a red rash. The condition, as a rule, is easily diagnosed. Penicillin is effective in most cases of sore throat. Hence, when sore throat develops, treatment with an adequate amount of penicillin may well be instituted.

Educational Society Holds Regular Meeting

Mrs. Olive Prosch was an adept hostess when she entertained the Alpha Delta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, national honorary education society, at her handsome home on Monday evening. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Faye Mayo, Miss Priscilla White, and Miss Opal Davids. Lovely peonies and French poppies were decorations.

Miss Marjorie Evans, president of the chapter, presided at a rou-

Miss Amelia Pensyl, treasurer, gave a financial report. Miss Gladys Melson, chairman of the committee on Selective Recruitment of Teachers, announced that the annual Delta Kappa Gamma Scholarship for outstanding school work, has been awarded to Miss Elizabeth Iden, of the Bloomingburg High School, with Miss Audrey Jean Scholl of the Washington High School, alternate.

The touchstone of the meeting was the scholarly interpretation given by Miss Ruth Stecher, of the celebrated book, written by Pearl S. Buck, entitled "How It Happens". The theme of the book, interwoven with a commonplace story of family life, reveals how wars are started in the minds of individuals; how prejudices and differences of opinion may arise in family circles and widen by degrees until they include groups, creeds, racial and religious hatreds, power politics, military aggression and national solidarities. Miss Stecher gradually led her enraptured listeners to understand that what can happen in any country may happen in any other, and how World War I, and World War II, developed from just such causes.

Miss Amelia Pensyl, the chapter's charming bride-to-be, was honored with a very handsome gift, and the eloquent presentation was made by Miss Jane Durant, chairman of the social committee. The hostesses served delicious refreshments.

Informal Dinner Is Enjoyed at Country Club

A most enjoyable event on Monday evening was the informal family night covered dish dinner at the Washington Country Club, with about fifty members, their families and guests attending.

As usual, the serving tables were heaped with delicious viands and large round tables seating the group for the pleasant dinner hour had as decorations a single large peony in flat arrangements. Games of canasta and bridge made up the diversion for the remainder of the evening.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Robert Edge, chairman, and her assistants, Mrs. Frank Reichelderfer, Mrs. Harry Thrallkill and Mrs. James Summers.

Guests included were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Morrison of Clarksburg, Miss Louis Geyer of Miami, Florida, and Mrs. Carl S. Mallow.

Club Members Meet With Mrs. Jones

Mrs. Charles Jones, entertained the Mysterious 15 Club Monday evening with ten members and four guests present.

The meeting was opened with the hymn "In The Garden" and the reading of the 100th Psalm by the president, Mrs. Tom Stultz.

Two members were welcomed into the club and a birthday show honored Miss Shirley Parks. It was also decided to adopt a shut-in and the next meeting is to be a picnic at the Fairgrounds Roadside Park.

During the social hour the hostess served a salad course assisted by Mrs. Maude Warner and Miss Hazel Swaney.

Family Dinner Honors Birthday Of Mrs. Clyburn

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Washburn and daughter Jane, entertained on Sunday at a basket dinner, honoring Mrs. Washburn's mother, Mrs. Anna Clyburn, who celebrated her eighty-seventh birthday anniversary.

The home throughout was decorated with bouquets of flowers and one long table on the porch seated the group for a most enjoyable dinner hour and the centerpiece was a birthday cake bearing the inscription "Happy Birthday Mother," and the guests sang "Happy Birthday" to Mrs. Clyburn.

During the afternoon, the lovely array of gifts were opened by the honor guest who graciously responded.

Those participating in the pleasant occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barton, sons Carl and Jon, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. C. P. Barton of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. John Whitel and son, John Paul, of Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Dow, Mrs. Mary Rhodes, Mr. Emil Hoels, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cary Clyburn, son Wayne, and daughter, Carol of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. James Clyburn, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clyburn, son David, daughter, Sheila, Mrs. Mae Hodge, granddaughter, Vicki VanDyke, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hodge of Greenfield, and Mr. William Clyburn, daughter Linda, of Kentucky.

Mrs. Clyburn's children were all present with the exception of a son, Mr. Pettus Clyburn, who is in Mexico.

Gradale Members Have Mr. Knight As Guest Speaker

The regular meeting of Gradale Sorority was held Monday in the Record-Herald club rooms with the primus Mrs. John Ohnewehr opening the business session in ritualistic form.

The regular reports were heard and Mrs. Emery Lynch made a special report on the monthly visit to the rest homes in this city which was most favorable.

Final plans were completed for the annual barn dance to be held Saturday, June 2 at the Emerson Marting farm, when Carl Witt's band will furnish music for dancing.

Mrs. Charles McCoy, chairman, outlined plans for a "punch party" to be held at the home of Mrs. John E. Rhoads Friday evening when new pledges will be honor guests. At the close of the business session Mrs. Ohnewehr introduced Mr. Jerry Robert Knight of the Columbus YMCA who was guest speaker.

Mr. Knight spoke on "Future Program Planning" and conducted a panel discussion on local aspects for new projects which the sorority might be interested in. His talk was most interesting and was most helpful to the members.

Quiet Wedding Unites Couple In Marriage

The Church of Christ in New Holland was the setting for an informal wedding on Monday, May 28, when Miss Juanita Everhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Everhart of Jeffersonville, became the bride of AA Richard Phillips of the United States Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John O. Phillips of Oakland Avenue.

The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. John Tigner at 3:30 P. M., before an altar decorated with bouquets of peonies, and was preceded by a short program of wedding music with Mrs. Ted Vincent at the piano.

The attendants for the bride were Mrs. Paul Dresbaugh, of this city, a sister, as matron of honor, and Miss Jane Vincent of New Holland, as bridesmaid.

Mr. John W. Phillips, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Mr. Jerry Carman was groomsmen.

The bride chose for her wedding a turquoise suit with which she combined red and white accessories and her corsage was red rosebuds and swansonia. Her only jewelry was a three strand pearl necklace, the gift of the bridegroom.

Plans for the couple are indefinite since the bridegroom leaves Sunday to return to duty on the U.S.S. Tawara off the coast of Norfolk, Virginia.

New Holland Graduates Back From Week's Trip East Made on Only $365 in Class Treasury

Eleven of this year's 15 graduates of New Holland High School and their four chaperones today are back home, tired but happy and full of memories of a week's trip to the nation's capital and the historic and scenic sections of Virginia.

What's more, the excursion must surely have set some kind of record for "getting the most for the money."

All told, the whole trip cost only $365.10 for transportation, lodgings for seven nights and all but two of the 30 special side excursions, Supt. Kenneth Craig, one of the chaperones and book-keeper, said.

There were some skeptics, he said, who were convinced the four could not be made on the $365 in the class treasury. But, Craig said, "we have the records to show that it cost only $24.30 apiece for all 15 on the trip—11 students and four chaperones."

The trip was made in three private automobiles, for which gasoline and oil were purchased out of the fund. Supt. Craig drove one car, Larry Hunter, editor of the New Holland Leader, drove another and Coach and Mrs. Robert O'Brien took the third.

Meals and souvenirs and two of the side trips were paid for out of the pockets of the excursionists.

Eleven Seniors on Trip

The members of the graduating class on the trip were Walter Flack, Paul Hurtt, Andy Hill, Walter Helsel, Virginia Dundon, Juanita Everhart, Christina Turnpseed, Anna Grace Miller, George Pettit, Bud Klever and Dale Funk.

That was the last time the class will be together as a class—except possibly at alumni reunions.

The money that financed the trip was accumulated little by little during the four high school years from concessions at the basketball games, selling greeting cards and the like, giving dances and putting on class plays.

Historic Spots Seen
The first stop of the trip was at Fort Necessity in Pennsylvania, an historic spot in the development of the country.

From there, the travelers followed Gen. Edward Braddock's trail of colonial days to Gettysburg, Pa., the site of one of the most famous Civil War battles.

At Washington, D. C., the group took special tours of the capital and visited many of its places of interest with guides to provide the necessary background. A moonlight boatride on the Potomac River was one of the features of the visit there.

After giving the capital a high-geared once-over, the tourists drove south to Yorktown, of Revolutionary War fame, where independence was won for the United States.

Williamsburg, restored to its colonial appearance, and Jamestown, where the first English settled in America in 1607, was taken in on the swing through historic Virginia that wound its way through Richmond and Charlottesville and to the nearby country estate of Thomas Jefferson.

The travelers took the famous "skyline drive" for the start of the drive home and stopped at Luray Caverns on the way.

When they reached Romney, W. Va., funds were running low, Supt. Craig said—so low in fact that it was necessary to do a little "dickering" with the operator of the motel there to get by. But the deal to put up the entire group for the night for $17 was made. That left $10 to get the rest of the way home on.

They just made it—with the pocketbook empty—after stopping at Marietta, the first settlement in Ohio.

The tourists stayed at motels six of the seven nights while on the trip. At Charlottesville, they stayed in a hotel.

That trip ended school days for most of the seniors who had been awarded their diplomas about a week before they left. Now, except for those who go on to college, the 15 graduates are going out to make their way in the world.

Poppy Day Here Takes in $552

Saturday's Rain Puts Crimp in Sale

The American Legion Auxiliary here today was looking forward to another year of service through its child welfare and veteran rehabilitation programs which are financed by the annual "Poppy Day."

Although the threatening weather and violent storm of Saturday put a crimp in this year's sale, Mrs. Michael Helfrich, Jr., said the Auxiliary was satisfied with the results and "very appreciative" of the public support given it.

When the results had finally all been checked, the Auxiliary had taken in $552 from the sale of 3,800 poppies.

That money, Mrs. Helfrich said, goes into the fund with which the Auxiliary takes care of needy children and helps veterans of both wars and their families when they find themselves in straitened circumstances.

Last year, "Poppy Day" brought in just about $100 more than it did this year.

The difference was blamed on the rain—"It hurt a lot," Mrs. Helfrich, the sale chairman this year, said.

Generosity Encouraging

Most encouraging to the chairman and members of the Auxiliary who devoted much of their time Saturday to the sale was the generosity of the response this year.

The $552 was taken in from the sale of 3,800 poppies. The year before, the approximately $650 was taken in from the sale of 4,800 poppies.

Each year the Auxiliary here gets 5,000 hand-made poppies from the Sandusky Veterans Hospital. While there were 1,200 left over this year, only 200 were unsold last year, Mrs. Helfrich pointed out. All the left-overs are discarded, the chairman said.

The poppies are made by disabled veterans of both wars. They get $22.50 a 1,000 from them from the Auxiliary posts which, in turn, sell them for whatever the buyer wants to drop into the coin box the Auxiliary members hold out. The money paid the veterans for the poppies is their own. They can use it for whatever purpose they like. Many buy "extras" for themselves at the hospitals; others use it to help meet family expenses outside.

The chairman of the sale said she was not sure just how many of the Auxiliary members took an active part in the sale here Saturday. There were eight in the office, checking in the receipts and issuing bunches of poppies all day, she said. On the streets with the poppies for sale all the time from 7 A. M. until 9 P. M. were nearly 60 others. On the streets, Mrs. Helfrich said, they worked in shifts of two-hours each.

Mrs. Helfrich, saying she was speaking for the entire Auxiliary, said: "Please tell the public we appreciate its support and help in making Poppy Day here a success again."

Drivers Arrested For Fast Driving

Too much speed on the slippery surface of U. S. 35 west (Dayton Road) resulted in two drivers being picked up by a state patrolman.

The men were William H. Truxax, Jr., Cincinnati, clocked at 75 miles an hour and Arnold Estel Anthony, 37, Columbia City, Ind., for 65 miles per hour.

Patrolmen point out that drivers are arrested at lesser speeds than usual when they are driving on slippery highways.

Both men posted $15 bail for appearance in police court here.

Song Fest Set Friday; Originality Theme

Originality will be stressed at 8 P. M. Friday, when the next song fest will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wipert on the Wilmington Road. Persons are urged to bring poems, songs and play any type of instrument at the informal get-together.

County Courts

TO SELL REALTY

Harley Dean Garringer, in a suit filed in common pleas court, asks a court order to sell 65.47 acres of land deeded to him and his heirs.

Garringer, represented by W. S. Paxson, makes the following persons who might have an interest in the property, defendant in the action: Clara Della Garringer, Lizzie J. Wolfe, Stephen R. C. Irons, Sarah K. Whited, Verna Rebecca Downs, John Emerson Irons, Floyd Irons, Flora M. Wilt, Thomas E. Allison, Ada Z. Evans, Earl G. Allison, Lucy May Maxwell, Ruth E. Moore, Evalen L. Escabert, Alta Geisel, Roy Dowler, Wert L. Dowler, Ople G. Hist, and Virgil C. Garringer.

Plaintiff states that he is advanced in age and physically unable to operate the property profitably, and asks authority to sell it and reinvest the proceeds.

DIVORCE ASKED

Divorce, custody of their three minor children and support for the children are asked in a petition filed in common pleas court by Carolyn Penrod against Robert Penrod. Charles S. Hire represents Mrs. Penrod.

It is stated in the petition that the parties were married Nov. 15, 1946, divorced Dec. 26, 1947, and remarried January 8, 1948.

Gross neglect of duty is charged by the plaintiff.

CASE DISMISSED

The case of Horace S. Kerr, Columbus, against Sakrete, Inc., Cincinnati, has been settled and dismissed, in common pleas court.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE

Based on claims of gross neglect of duty, Mabel Landrum has filed her petition for divorce from James Landrum, to whom she was married here Feb. 1, 1939.

The plaintiff, represented by W. W. Hill, also asks for custody of their two minor children and temporary and permanent alimony.

SEEKS SEPARATION

Betty Adams, a minor, through her father, Harley Self, has filed her petition for divorce from John Adams.

The parties were married in Newport, Ky., Sept. 10, 1946, and have two children, custody of whom is asked by the plaintiff, who also asks for reasonable alimony to support the children. W. W. Hill represents the plaintiff.

CITED FOR CONTEMPT

In the case of Barbara A. Clark against Robert L. Clark, the plaintiff has asked the court to cite the defendant to appear in court and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court.

The plaintiff states that in a court decree the defendant was to pay her $25 weekly alimony, and that he has failed to do so since Dec. 5, 1950.

Judge H. M. Rankin issued a citation for Clark to appear in court June 2 at 11 A. M. and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court.

Blue Cross to Hold Drive Here

Voluntary Plan Offered Residents

The annual Washington C. H. and Fayette County Blue Cross community enrollment for 1951 is scheduled here June 4, 5, 6, inclusive.

Ralph W. Jordan, executive vice president of Central Hospital Service, the Blue Cross Plan for this area, announced the campaign dates today.

He said the drive is being co-sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club and the Lion's Club. Blue Cross also bears the endorsement of the Fayette County Medical Society and Fayette County Memorial Hospital.

The Fayette County Blue Cross campaign is conducted annually so the residents of the area will have the opportunity to enroll in this voluntary plan of prepaid hospital care.

The purpose of the enrollment is to provide all persons, including railroad employees and farmers and those who work in a firm where payroll deduction for Blue Cross is not made, the opportunity to become members under the non-group contract. This may be done by completing an application at the First Federal Savings Bank enrollment headquarters.

Applicants for the plan must be under the age 65 years of age. The non-group contract does not cover maternity and has a six-month waiting period for tonsillectomy and adenoidectomy.

Groups of five or more employees may form Blue Cross at any time on a payroll deduction basis. Should an employee of a group leave his place of employment he may retain his Blue Cross membership. For further information regarding group formations it is suggested that you visit enrollment headquarters and secure full particulars from a Blue Cross representative.

Members on a direct billing basis may pay their Blue Cross at the Washington Savings Bank.

This will be the only Fayette County Blue Cross enrollment this year. The next enrollment will be a year from the current date.

Jeff Cubs To Play On Memorial Day

After looking the field over, plans for playing off the postponed game between Blanchester and Jeffersonville's Cubs at Jeffersonville Memorial Day, were put in motion.

It will be a Southwestern Ohio League tilt.

The schedule had left the holiday a blank for just such an emergency, it was said.

A capacity crowd is expected at the Jeffersonville lot because neither team has met defeat yet this year.

Sharon Rettig Tops '51 Grads

Runner-up for scholastic honors was Bill Case, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Case. His average was 3.85.

Other students in the top ten of the graduating class were as follows: Jane Terrell, 3.78, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Terrell; Kay Morter, 3.76, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Morter; Joan Cockerill, 3.75, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Cockerill; Jean Perrill, 3.66, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Perrill; Naomi Timberman, 3.59, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence R. Timberman.

Self-employed Social Security

Explanation Made By Security Official

Apparently there is some misunderstanding of the self-employed person's obligations under the amended social security act.

Old-age and survivors insurance is not optional for people who are working for themselves in their own trade or business, or as partners in such enterprises.

If you are self-employed and derive as much as $400 in net profit from your business or businesses in any taxable year after December 31, 1950, your social security is compulsory by law.

The only exceptions are income derived from self-employment as owner-operator of an agricultural enterprise, and self-employment income derived from practice as a physician, lawyer, dentist, osteopath, chiropractor, optometrist, naturopath, veterinarian, architect, OPA, licensed, registered or full-time practicing public accountant, Christian Science practitioner, professional engineer or funeral director.

This means that, if the operator of a trade or business is not in one of the excepted groups, he has the same obligation to report his own income and pay the self-employment tax as he now has to report and without social security taxes on his employees' earnings.

However, as a self-employed person he does not report himself along with his employees. The self-employment income must be reported annually on the income-tax Form 1040, Schedule C, especially revised for this purpose.

The first such report is due

Notice to all Disabled Veterans. Important meeting tonight, 8 P. M., G.A.R. Hall. Please come. Fayette Chapter 89.

Railroad Is Sued For Swine Killed

Suit for $165 for five hogs killed by a train has been filed in Justice P. S. Ludwick's court by Ray D. Warner, who asks the amount from the B. & O. Railroad Co., defendant in the action.

Warner, who is represented by Otis B. Core, states that on Dec. 9, 1950, five hogs, weighing 150 pounds and worth $165, were killed by a train owned by the B. & O.

He claims that the hogs had gotten upon the track as a result of negligence on the part of the defendant in keeping a fence in repair.

The hearing has been set for June 8 at 10 A. M.

Mrs. Nancy Hoppes Funeral Rites Held

Funeral services for Mrs. Nancy Hoppes, 102, were held at 2:30 P. M. Monday at the Hook and Son Funeral Home, with Rev. C. B. Tigner, pastor of the First Christian Church, in charge.

Rev. Tigner read the Scripture, offered prayer, delivered the sermon and read the three hymns, "In the Garden," "Jesus Savoir Pilot Me" and "Oh, That Will be Glory for Me."

There were many friends and relatives at the funeral. The grandsons who acted as pallbearers were as follows: Herbert, Glenn, Maynard, Lawrence, Wilbur and Samuel I. Hoppes. Burial was made in the family lot of the Good Hope Cemetery.

Farm Work Halted Over Wide Area

Due to heavy rainfall Saturday and Sunday, coming on top of previous heavy rains recently, most of the farm work in Fayette County has been halted for several days.

Farmers who have not completed their corn planting now see the work carried over into June.

Corn cultivation and other work in the field await drying of the soil sufficiently to permit the resumption of work.
